WOMEN OF 45.

To every woman, middle life brings pain and suffering. With the change of life come headaches, giddiness, fainting fits, flushes, pains in the back, and despondency.

And worse may follow.

But Dr. Williams' Pink Pills ease the pains and soothe the suffering.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich the blood—brace up the nerves—strengthen the weak, disturbed system. They shorten the critical period. They bring rosy cheeks to women pale with torment.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills gradually restore the natural vigor till all disturbance ceases. They alone bring relief and ease to women between the ages of 40 and 50.

Mr. E. Jenkins, Carruthers, says: "I suffered terribly from the menopause, and I had to take a long time to get over it. The doctor—another told me he had charge of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—told me that they were the best thing for me. I took them, and much brighter. My appetite slowly returned, and I was able to sleep better. The disturbances in my system had ceased, and now I am in perfect health again."

AN APPEAL TO THE FEDERAL LABOUR PARTY.

THE DROUGHT.

RELIEF WORKS SUGGESTED.

The Commissioners of the Western Lands Board, who are under the provisions of the Water Conservation and Drainage Act, are at the present time engaged in a board labour, with certain officers of the Public Works Department to advise the Minister as to certain works, met the latter yesterday morning. The officers discussed where it would be a feasible to provide water conservation works, with the twofold object of providing employment for men thrown idle by the drought, and to provide water to areas where the Murray, Lachlan, and other natural streams, which were then the Darling, Murrumbidgee, Lachlan, and other rivers became flooded. The officers were able to single out a number of likely places where such works could be carried out, but before recommending the Minister to start them it was deemed desirable to get reports as to the prospect of finding water, and to ascertain the practicability of conveying food to these areas and the place.

It was also decided to communicate with the police in the back country, in order to get reports from them as to the condition of the people and the state of the land. When this information is to hand the Minister will be in a position to submit a scheme of works to the Minister.

BROKEN HILL WATER SUPPLY.

The acute position reached in connection with the water supply of Broken Hill has not been relieved by the rains in the back country, because the township in question has not been fortunate as to participate in the rainfall which has been received by the district.

Two special trains arrived from Broken Hill, bringing sheep from the Hay district. They were in poor condition on arrival, and were fed with hay, which was strewn on the ground.

GRAPTON, MONDAY.

Mr. H. H. Mead this afternoon took a loan of £100 for his mistake he went to Dr. Lewiss's surgery, and while being treated declared duly elected, and they briefly returned thanks. Alderman Thompson said he owed no thanks to the reform committee for his return.

PHILIP WARD.

ALDERMEN R. D. MEAGHER, M.L.A., AND T. H. BARLOW RE-ELECTED.

Good steady voting took place all day in Philip Ward, perhaps the quietest time being between 1 and 2 p.m., when a general strike of the rank-and-file of the hotel staff at the Old Kabulite Building, Pitt Street, Alfred Park. The committees and supporters of the various candidates worked hard and nobly, and vehicles were employed in conveying the raters to the booths. There was the customary crowd outside, and the residents are jubilant in consequence. Over the northern districts heavy rains have fallen. Numerous stations report falls of two and three inches, while at the south-east heavy rains have been reported. At least 5 inches fell last week at Terreyfield and Inverell.

The weather yesterday was fine throughout the State, and there are no indications of further rains. The principal falls in the western districts during last week were —

PYMONT WARD.

RETURN OF MESSRS. A. TAYLOR AND ALDERMAN J. C. BEER.

Considerable interest was manifested in the election for this ward, and a large number of ratepayers recorded their votes during the day. There were 10,000 registered voters, and the election was conducted with great interest. Mr. A. Taylor, Samuel Gedling, Peter McQueen, and Alfred Charles Warton, all elected for the first time, did not offer himself for re-election on account of having been appointed to the position of employees represented on the Arbitration Court. The representation of the arbitration court, however, availed themselves of every opportunity during the day to bring voters to the polls. A large crowd assembled at the polling booth in the hall of the town hall, and was situated at Elder's Hall, Union-street, and T. J. Murray was the presiding officer, and Mr. J. G. Collins, his assistant. During the day a steady stream of voters came to the hall, and at 5 p.m. the votes, and after 5 o'clock there was such a rush as tended to tax the booths to the fullest extent. At the end of the day the doors were closed, and the returns remained to be taken in at the tables. About 3 p.m. a large number of electors assembled in front of the hall in anticipation of the result. At 8 p.m. the returns were in, and at that time, they were informed that the declaration would be made at the Sydney Town Hall. The result of the polling showed that Messrs. A. Taylor and J. C. Beer were re-elected to the positions. Following were the results —

CHAPTER XIV.—Continued.

We pulled out to sea and pulled for 10 minutes back towards the west, and then lay on our oars.

It was a somewhat uncanny experience. We drew in towards the shore a few times, but the darkness and the fog had us.

“Let me into the bows,” said the Doctor, and he crawled across the seats and lay down on the bows, and an occasional sneeze the Vicar said, “nothing I think was just a trifle scared.”

We floated silently along in consideration, and I said,

“Married loves these two, and my heart went to them, and delighted in their quiet observation of their loverlike ways.”

That is how I came to know my very good reason, had I in after time to kiss the boy that landed their boat on Gridiron, and their own good selves in my house.

“To be continued.”

They haven’t opened their lips since I last spoke to you, and then it was only a very little whisper.

At which Lamont and I smiled.

“This is just what your husband had been saying to me,” said Lamont, “I said, and I saw their eyes meet, and brightened.

Married loves these two, and my heart went to them, and delighted in their quiet observation of their loverlike ways.”

That is how I came to know my very good reason, had I in after time to kiss the boy that landed their boat on Gridiron, and their own good selves in my house.

AMERICAN MAIL NEWS.

By the R.M.S. Sonoma, which arrived from San Francisco early on Saturday morning, we have received files of American papers to November 6. We make the following extracts:

A FIREWORKS DISASTER.

TWELVE PERSONS KILLED.

EIGHTY INJURED.

BY A SERIES OF EXPLOSIONS OF PYROTECHNIC BOMBS AND FIREWORKS, 100 PERSONS WERE KILLED AND 80 INJURED IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Mrs. Strange, “you’re an angel,” I called up to her, and I quickly laughered out with her.

Bring ‘em right in, Mr. Gilbert,” she called back. “Kittie’s a biling, and there’s a glass of hot grog waiting for you.”

The fireworks consisted of a score or more of incendiary bombs and a heavy bomb ready to send skyward to celebrate the election of William B. Howard.

They were set off in the square.

Our men had better come up to the house and have a glass of grog, Mr. La-

Mont said.

The Cove’s a nasty place in a fog, and to one they’ll run on to something, and we’ll have to turn to and face them.

Then, by all means they’d better stop ashore,” he said. “We’ll stop quite enough for one night, Mr. Gilbert.”

So we gave orders to the men to run both boats up above tide mark, and then come up the right hand gate up to the house.

I don’t know what kind of a place our guests expect to arrive at, so I went with the men to the door into the kitchen, where Mrs. Strange was still beaming rosy red with my salute, and a new bowl of grog stood steaming on the table, and everyone was in a piece of mind.
